Stark Revives Thirty-Six Bills Johnny Randolph's ten-piece For Election In Assembly

Among Over 250 Marked To Go Into Discard

JEFFERSON CITY, March 21 _(AP)_Thirty-six bills recommended killed by a joint revision committee—among them secret ballots, hygienic marriage, and nousing proposals—were revived today by a special message of Gov. Lloyd C. Stark.

The 36 were among more than 250 measures marked for the discard by the revision committee last week. They were not yet officially dead, since neither house had acted on the report.

The constitution limited the new legislation, but gave the governor power to revive any subject after that deadline by a

The governor also brought new life into a house proposal which would create a civil service plan for state employes and a Senate bill providing for the public sale to $50,000 or more.

Into Few Local Bills The governor's special message reached the legislative halls as the House was preparing to take up the controversial report of appropriation bills. report striking more than 100 bills this morning, but delayed consideration of the report on "doubtful" measures.

Stark would not say definitely but his associates indicated he would limit his legislative recommendations to this one message. He has the power to make similar recommendations as long as the Legislature is in session.

The executive went into few local bills and did not touch several measures which would have created state parks and memorials. There was no immediate mention of a teacher's pension bill which fell from the calendar in last week's pruning.

The revived secret ballot bill provides for the sealing of the tell-tale number on all ballots. End-Of-Season Warning

How safe from fire hazards will your home be for the balance of the time you run your heating plant?

A chart sent out by the National Board of Fire Underwriters shows that fire losses take a decided spurt at the end of the cold weather season. It isn't necessary to look far to find the cause of this. Householders have been running their heating plants steadily since the first cold snap in the fall. Defects are apt to develop in stoves, furnaces or chimneys. Chimney flues may become clogged with

A fire prevention engineer gives suggestions for avoiding fires from defective heating systems at this time of the year. He warns against forcing furnaces or stoves and says that if you can't get enough warmth from them, it will pay you to call a heating expert. He suggests that householders check over their heating systems to look for such defects as broken parts, holes in the smoke pipe, burnable material near the smoke pipe or any very hot part of the heating plant that becomes charred from the radiated heat. Following Harry Hopkins' "appeasement" speech certain business interests and their allies in Congress, who last session axed the capital gains and undivided profits taxes, decided that the time was ripe to wipe out the remaining remnants of these taxes. Madeto-order boosters in this strategy were Secretary Morgenthau and Under Secretary John Hanes.

Fellowship of Prayer

"Do The Best Thing"

Tuesday, March 21. And the Lord said unto him, Go return on thy way . . . Read I Kings 19:15-

The passage burns with ancient enmities, but for us - as for Elijah-it indicates the third steps in deliverance from "defeatism;" the return in action and obedience to the immediate duty.

"Do the next thing" is the wisest of injunctions—if only the "next thing" be what good-will and sensitive insight direct. In spite of all our excuses most of us know the "next thing." It may be near as our own threshold. It may be with or for husband, wife, child, friend; dishes to be washed or a field to be ploughed. But it is deliverance and power; action controlled by love and duty always gets us out of our shadows and away from our fears. 'Doubt' say the wise, "cannot be removed save by action." Do the nearest duty to thee," says Carlyle, "which thou knowest to be a duty! Thy second duty will already have become clearer."

Prayer: "O Master, let me walk with Thee

In work that keeps faith sweet and In trust that triumphs over wrong:

In peace that only Thou canst give With Thee, O Master, let me live." Amen.

Announcing a "custom" under which he will occasionally discuss Texas citizens who have influenced state, national and world affairs, the son of President Roosevelt selected for the first of the series Vice President Garner and Fred H. Vahlsing, at present of New York City, who operates a 10,000-acre truck garden in the Rio Grande Valley.

Young Roosevelt stressed Garner's simple home life at Uvalde, his reticence toward public speaking, and the power he carries in legislative matters, a power which grew steadily from the time Garner went to congress in 1903. Garner's Views Same

PROGRESS IN BREWING was certain to find that combination of Natural Beer Ingredients that would yield the utmost in True Beer Flavor, and yet be free from those features that cause worry about overweight and other things that may have bothered you.

After five years of post-repeal brewing, much of the Public was still waiting for that Complete Quality, which oceans of printers' ink and thousands of smart slogans have failed to make real.

By patiently blending Natural Ingredients, at last we bring you a Truly Fine Beer, with NO Sugar, NO Glucose, NO Fattening Syrups used in the browing. A Natural Brew!... STERLING Pilsner.

YOU will enjoy the new STERLING for its own Flavor - and you can doubly enjoy it because of the knowledge that beer's worrisome features are eliminated and that it is actually lower in calories than most foods you eat.

Grange Program At Maplewood

An appreciative audience filled to capacity the Maplewood Grange hall on Thursday night to witness the Sunnyside and Maplewood Community plays. The Sunnyside cast consisting of Mesdames Guy Berry, W. P. Tucker, Loraine Berry, Vincent Slatinsky, J. A. DeJarnette and upon Mel Harder, Johnny Allen to apply the act not only when he Gene Shipard presented "Mushrooms Coming Up," coached by Mrs. Ralph Dow. Maplewood cast consisting of Miss Velda Uffman, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rissler, Mr. and Mrs. James Ellis, Mrs. Wm. Williams and Kenneth Nelson presented "Pink for Proposals" coached by Miss Maurine Witzel.

Both plays were given in a most creditable manner and received hearty applause. We hope, these plays will enter in the county play contest.

At the close of the meeting refreshments of apples and pop corn balls were served by the Grange. Between plays readings were given by Miss Witzel and Miss Rita Slatinsky.

Motive Sought In Dynamite Death

CAVE IN ROCK, Ill., March 21. _(AP)_The motive for the dynamite death of Earl Austin, 46year-old NYA superintendent. was sought today by State's Attorney Clarence S. Soward, who planned to question the victim's estranged wife and a neighbor.

Charged jointly with murder, the couple, Mrs. Alice Austin, 35, and Theodore Simmons, 30, was moved last night to the Harrisburg jail because Sheriff J. T. Gram said there was "quite a bit of excitement" in Elizabethtown, seat of Hardin County.

Austin died yesterday a few hours after dynamite exploded beneath the floorboards of his truck. A companion, Miss Lucine McDowell, 22 was in a hospital at Elizabethtown. Surgeons amputated h er left leg, mangled in the blast.

Strikingly reproduced in colors, the poster stamps, one of which is shown above, include birds (upland game birds and song and insectivorous species), mammals, fish, trees and wild flowers. The originals are from paintings by eminent American artists. Returns are to be devoted to restoration of wild life over the nation. The series will be continued from year to year.

Postmaster General Farley's philatelic truck, which was to have toured the nation to make it stamp conscious, is having trouble getting started. Its construction is months bening for the first thing, and now the House Appropriations committee has refused a grant of $6500 for its operation. Philatelists, therefore, are raining protests these days on Edward T. Taylor, Colorado, heading the House committee.

But spring troubles do not stop 38 Electric unit. with this. There are the other hazards of street frolic. The ball rolls out into traffic, with the children after it. Kites pull the eyes skyward. Who, interested in the gyrations of a kite and attempting to keep it away from wires and trees, ever thinks of cars? Not a child in a million. Let them have their kites, by all means, for the thrill comes only once a year, but make orders plainly understood. They must NOT step off the sidewalk. Back yards or open lots are best.

Wagons Very Dangerous And need we mention the little wagon again? It becomes restless in the spring and gets an itch to wander. The middle of the street or road calls with siren voice and there is our Mary hitching along to Kit's on the smooth asphalt.

I have no desire to ruin the freedom of a new spring, or to take one single joy-maker from the younger set. But a few rules set down without a "maybe" are not only kind but necessary.

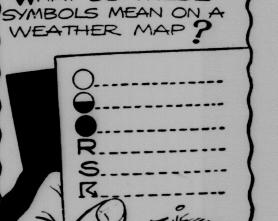

The Divine Providence certainly protects children or there would be more accidents than there are. Why not help Providence a little, and make sure that our own children won't be among the examples used to warn others?

Keep an eye open, I suggest and train THEM to keep both eyes open. There will be fast driving and bad driving. So make the middle of the street taboo.

IF YOU FEEL SUNK Read this and cheer up

Are you so blue that life is no longer worth living? Do you cry easily? Do you feel low, mean, depressed—just absolutely SUNK? Then here's good news for you in case you need a good general system tonic—Just take famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Let its wholesome herbs and roots help Nature build up more physical resistance and tone up your system, so that it can more easily throw off the "blues" and give more energy to enjoy life.
